News & Updates

Class Date Change: The date for the Animal Scents--Using Essential Oils with Animals class has been changed. The class is now going to be held on Sunday, July 24. See page 3 of the newsletter for more information regarding the class.

Sponsoring a Basic Animal Communication Workshop: Since I have had several inquiries regarding sponsoring workshops, I thought I would explain how you can sponsor a workshop for a group or organization in your location. I will travel to your area for a two day basic animal communication workshop. A minimum of 6 paid students is required for the workshops in Indiana. Workshops held outside of Indiana will require a higher minimum number of students if additional travel expenses are needed. There is a maximum limit of 12 students for all workshops. The person who sponsors or hosts the workshop will get to attend the workshop for free. The workshop can be held at your house or another facility. Since one well-behaved animal per person is allowed to attend on the second day of the workshop, there will need to be enough room for both animals and people. Please note, my weekends are very busy so you will need to schedule dates well in advance. All sponsored workshop dates can also be advertised in the newsletter, on my website, and in other public advertising. Please call or email me if you are interested in sponsoring a workshop!!!!

New Feature Stories Reiki stories needed for June!

The June issue of the newsletter will focus on Reiki; what it is, how you and your animal companions can benefit from it, and how easy it is for anyone to use. If you have experienced the benefit of Reiki with your animals, and/or have taken a Reiki class, and you would like to share your experience, please let me know. You can mail or email it or call me with the story. Your animal companion's story and picture could be featured in an upcoming newsletter!

Feature Story of the Month -by Tammy Van Deusen

I own shelties and I am very blessed that Karin is in my life. I could spend hours telling how Karin has helped each of my dogs. It was very hard to pick just one thing. I have chosen a case that I think that Karin not only helped the dog but may have saved her life in the long term.

Flutter

Flutter's story---

Flutter is a very special little girl. She does herding and agility (a dog sport) and is VERY good at both. When Flutter came to live with me as a puppy, the first thing she told us was that she was going to have wonderful, smart, beautiful puppies. If I had only realized just how much she took that to heart.

Flutter did have a litter of puppies on her second heat. I am lucky that she only comes in to heat every 9 months. She had 4 wonderful puppies and was an awesome mom.

Life was great until the first heat following the litter. I was at a major event and noticed that she was just not herself. She still did very well in herding and agility, but something was off. Over the next month she really changed. Herding is her passion, but she did not want to go work sheep and if she did she was not paying attention. She was depressed and her coat was looking very bad.

So I called Karin for help!!! Karin not only did communication but also Reiki and Esoteric Healing. We also used flower essences, gem elixirs, and Young Living essential oils. This was not just a one appointment deal. Karin worked with Flutter several times over the next month.

Karin found out that Flutter was very depressed because she did not get to have puppies again. At this same time, I had also brought home a new puppy. Karin found out that Flutter was very upset that I had brought home a puppy instead of letting her have puppies. Flutter was depressed because she thought that I didn't need her or her puppies any more. Karin also discovered that the depression was affecting Flutter's body. She had thrown her hormones all out of whack. Karin explained to Flutter that it is not healthy to have puppies every heat and that she had to be strong and healthy before each litter. She made sure that Flutter knew that she would still have many more wonderful puppies, but not each time she came in heat. Flutter did pull out of the depression and began to help with the healing process. Now Flutter is happy, healthy, and back in herding and agility.

I believe that without Karin's help, this little girl would have made herself very unhealthy.

This is an ongoing offer in addition to the monthly special. Established clients will receive $10 off of their next appointment for each friend they refer who schedules an animal communication consultation or healing arts session.

Quote of the Month

This month's quote is a poem from one of my favorite books, The Tao of Meow, by Waldo Japussy. The book is written by a tabby cat named Waldo and translated by his person, Carl Japikse. The book contains 81 verses written by Waldo which reveal his insights into the meaning of life. It was very hard to pick just one verse!!!

"There is one thing I have never understood--
Why do humans constantly blame each other
For the mistakes and unpleasantries of life?

If there are three cats in a room,
And an expensive vase happens to fall off a table
And crash into tiny bits on the floor,
We do not sit there,
Waiting for a human to arrive on the scene,
And then point our paws at one another, saying,
'Don't look at me, he did it--
I was just enjoying a cat nap.'

I should say not!
We all leave as quickly as we can,
And only return when the coast is clear.

Humans are possessed with the idea of blame.
And yet, it is clear to me,
As it would be to anyone in tune with the Way,
That the vase was no longer needed in this life.
It had outlived its usefulness--
It was in the Way.
So the Way knocked it out of the Way,
Possibly with the help of a swishing tail.

Why blame a cat for an act of Nature?
Why blame each other
For mistakes and accidents of Life?

It's over and done with:
Let's not shed any tears over
The broken shards of life."
